Fusion Insurance Services opens new office in Manchester

London, 11th December 2014: Insurance underwriters Fusion Insurance Services have opened a new office in Manchester; making it Fusion's seventh trading office in the UK.

Fusion believes in providing empowered underwriters trading where the brokers and clients want them to be, supporting brokers from local offices in established insurance markets. The new Manchester office will be headed by Vicky Spence, Regional Director, and will initially comprise of ten staff.

Fusion Insurance already has offices across the UK in London, Bristol, Birmingham, Lymington, Glasgow and Leeds.

David Bruce, CEO Fusion Insurance, commented: "We believe that we are a growing and ambitious business and investing in teams and offices remains a priority to allow us to service our clients to the levels that they expect. Each insurance market and area has specific needs and we aim to service each of these with our network of empowered underwriters who can make client decisions straight away without the need to refer back to a central head office. Manchester and the North are important markets for us and we are certain that Vicky and her team will have made an impact from day one."
