

We are delighted to announce that Fusion's risk management offering will now be delivered through one website Fusion Thinking. You will now be able to all access all of the Fusion added value services with a single password and new administrator functionality will enable you to manage access and passwords for all of your employees.

As well as the new Administrator functionality many of our added value services have been further enhanced and we have added two new tools;

ProQuip            For managing issue and control of Personal Protective Equipment

Data Pro            Managing Data Protection registration, policies and training

Registering on our Added Value sites
